Summary

AI Innovator | Data Analytics Enthusiast | Passionate Developer

As a Computer Science student specializing in Artificial Intelligence at Chitkara University, I thrive on building intelligent systems that solve real-world problems. My interests span Deep Learning, NLP, and full-stack web development (MERN Stack).

I've earned certifications from Google and Scaler, and developed hands-on expertise in Python, C++, and SQL. I enjoy transforming complex data into actionable insights using Power BI and have experience building chatbots, automating data extraction, and developing interactive dashboards
